Crap free? What does that even mean?

I only use ingredients I know are safe. They're natural, they're frequently organic or wildcrafted, and they're the highest grade. 'Natural' is where I start, but I continue with research into each ingredient's safety, effectiveness, and environmental impact. And I only pick the absolute best.

I only want to be selling you what's best for you -- and for your customers. You care about the environment just as much as I do (or you wouldn't be here!) and so do your customers, and what I do? Is what's best for all of us.

To order, contact me at sales@TheVagabondTabby.com.

Minimums: $100 first order, $75 repeat orders. Each category has its own per-scent minimum. Testers are available for everything but the soap -- if you order double the minimum with your first order, I'll send you a tester for that scent free.

Retail Listing: I'll add your store name and location (and a picture of your storefront if I can find one!) to my Locations page, so that my local people can find you.

Payment: When I receive your order, I'll calculate the shipping and send you an invoice. Once I've received your payment I'll start production. I accept payment via Visa, Mastercard, Discover, Amex, Paypal, or check (with a 10 day hold prior to shipping).

Shipping: I make my products fresh with every order, so please allow 1-3 weeks for production. I send all shipments via USPS Priority, and they're all tracked and insured for the appropriate value. I'll quote your shipping rates based on the actual costs. You are responsible for any taxes or duties.

Returns: If any of your items arrive defective or damaged please contact me within 3 days of the shipment's arrival -- return them within 10 days so that I can have a look at them, and I'll replace them at no cost. Because I make every wholesale purchase fresh to order I don't accept returns or exchanges on wholesale orders.

Pricing: Prices provided are wholesale. Suggested retail prices are double the whole price (that's what I use). All prices subject to change at any time.

Privacy: I hate it when companies sell or rent my personal information, and I get lots of junk mail and spam. Don't you? So I never, ever, ever sell, rent, give out, or otherwise share your personal information with anyone. Ever.
